PROMISES FULFILLED. Expectation, in which the American people turning from the democratic party, entrusted power four years ago, to the republican chief magistrate and the republican congress, has been met and satisfied. When the people then assembled at the polls after a term of democratic legislation and administraparalyzed and national credit disastrously impaired. The country's capital was hidden away and its labor distressed and unemployed. The democrais had no other plan with which to improve the rumous conditions which they had themselves produced than to coin silver at a ratio of 16 to 1. The republican party denouncing this plan as sure to produce conditions even sought, promised to restore prosperity markets of the world. by means of legislative measures-to majorities issued to the republicar party a commission to enact these laws. This commission has been executed and the republican promise is re-

PROSPERITY APPARENT. Prosperity mere general and more abundam than we have ever known has followed these enactments. Ther is no longer any controversy as to value of any government obligations Every American dollar is a good dottar or its assured equivalent and America credit stands higher than that of any other nation. Capital is fully employ ed, everywhere labor is profitably seen No single fact can more strik ingly tell the story of what republica government means to the country than this that while during the whole period of one hundred and seven years from 1891 to 1897 there was an excess of exports over imports of only $383,028, 407, there has been in the short three years of the present republican adminastration an excess of exports over im ports in the enormous sum of $1.483. 33,094, and while American people, sustained by this republican legislation has been achieving these splendid triumphs in their business and comtory concluded a war for liberty and humanity. No thought of national aggrandizement has tarnished the high purpose for which the American stanstands were unfuried. It was a war unsought and patiently resisted, but when it came the American government was tion. Walking untried paths and facing unfore seen responsibilities President McKin ley has been in every situation a tru American patriot and upright states man, clear in vision, strong in judgment, firm in action always inspiring and deserving the confidence of his countrymen.

In asking the American people to ot lorse this republican record and to renew their commission to the republican parcy, we remind them of the fact tha a menance to their prosperity has always resided in the democratic princi ples and no less in the general incapa city of the democratic party to condupublic affairs. The prime essential of business prosperity is public confidence in good sense of government and its ability to deal intelligently with all new problems of administration and legis lation. That confidence the democrati party has flever carned. It is hopelessy inadequate, and the country's pros parity when democratic success at the potts is announced, balts and genses in mere anticipation of democratic blundere and failures.
